Wild, wet and wonderful end to Summer Reading

Participants and leaders of the Elk Point Municipal Library's Summer Reading Program wound up the season with a water balloon tossing competition and a bounce castle session that both followed up on this year's theme, 'Fun!'

Fun, fitness and safety at K+S Windsor Salt

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

A series of safety-oriented sessions, along with one just for fun, took the place of their usual duties for the staff at K+S Windsor Salt's Lindbergh works on Aug. 13, as they divided into five competitive teams for the annual Safety Day exercise.

The company puts a high priority on the safety of its workers, and is proud of the works' excellent safety record.

The morning session included a presentation by Dr. Daniel Coffey, an ergonomics and injury prevention consultant who told the workers some ways to get their bodies ready for work each day before going to work, and showed them a series of exercises to help maintain a fit, happy body.

After all the teams enjoyed a barbecue lunch, one of the teams started the afternoon off with the fun aspect, Minute-to-Win-It-style, competing in activities that included catching bouncing balls in a stack of plastic cups, knocking over a lineup of water bottles with a head-mounted stocking-and-ball 'elephant trunk' and attempting to stack golf balls three high.

Another team started in the office, with a clear communications exercise where a sequestered member with a finished project and an instruction book relayed how-to details for a Lego building project through a lineup of team members to the final member, who was faced with turning a stack of multi-colored pieces into whatever the mysterious object was supposed to be.

This proved more successful for some teams than others, depending on their ability to give clear instructions and to interpret them into action at the other end.

Pow Wow portrays timeless traditions

Frog Lake First Nations hosted their 2015 Canadian Classic Pow Wow at the Six Chiefs Cultural Ground this weekend, with dancers and drum groups from near and far coming to take part. Ornate beadwork and embroidery, fringes and feathers adorned colourful costumes and headdresses worn by talented performers who kept time with the drums in dances passed down from generation to generation. The ladies and girls moved through the graceful steps of Fancy, Traditional and Jingle dances, while men and boys performed Fancy, Grass, Traditional and Chicken dances for the large and appreciative crowd. A hand games tournament was also part of the weekend.

Early morning crashes

CST. ANITA DOKTOR
Elk Point RCMP

On Aug. 15 at approximately 7:20 a.m., Elk Point RCMP Detachment along with EMS and Fire Department responded to a two-vehicle collision at Highway 646 and 41 junction.

Initial investigation revealed that a semi truck was traveling southbound on Highway 41 at which time a Chevrolet Cavalier failed to stop at the designated stop sign and struck the trailer, trapping the occupants inside. All the occupants were extracted and transported to hospital with minor injuries.

It is believed that consumption of alcohol by the male driver of the Chevrolet was a factor in the collision.

On Aug. 2 at approximately 5:00 a.m., Elk Point RCMP were dispatched to a single motor vehicle collision on the Frog Lake First Nations east of Elk Point.

Initial investigation found that a single cab pickup truck lost control and rolled, ejecting two of the three occupants. One male occupant age 22 from the Frog Lake First Nations was pronounced dead at the scene, two other occupants were transported to hospital via air and ambulance.

Alcohol and speed are being considered as factors as the investigation progresses.

She is encouraging downtown businesses to come on board to host events ranging from a cookie decorating session, a chili cook-off and a coloring contest to serving up an early Christmas dinner. Some former favourites, including strolling carolers, hotshot shoot-and-score hockey and a turkey toss, are also on the lineup, along with the traditional tractor-drawn wagon rides, bonfires, photos with Santa, parade and fireworks display.

Another significant change is that this year's Winter Wonderland Parade will go near the end of the event at 6 p.m., and will be followed by the fireworks at 7 p.m. to wrap up the day of festive fun.

Watch for more details as they are announced.

A third station featured a hands-on session with Safety Buzz instructor Natasha Huber, who taught participants how to use an Automatic External Defibrillator (AED), which she said to increase the chance of survival for a heart attack victim by 70 per cent. Many public buildings and businesses are now equipped with the devices, and all five teams have now had actual practice in their use.

The fourth station featured a very well-used forklift, manned by a rather sketchy and quite literally air-headed operator. Teams were handed a checklist and instructed to do a point-by-point inspection of the equipment and make note of every deficiency or problem they observed.

The final session gave insight into filling out a job safety assessment form, and was done from the point of a common task, such as mowing a residential lawn. The tabletop exercise opened many eyes regarding the many steps that must be taken to perform familiar duties, and the numerous hazards that could be faced in the process.

Each team was scored on the tasks they performed, and points added up to determine the winners.

WHO KNEW THE HAZARDS of performing a common task like mowing the lawn? This team does, after listing step-by components of the job, the hazards faced along the way and the safety equipment needed to complete the job without risking injury.

Caution: harvest traffic

With the harvest season already getting underway, there is a noticeable increase in large, slow-moving traffic on rural roads and secondary highways, and sometimes on the primary highways.

Modern farm equipment tends to be very large in size, and frequently takes up more than the width of a single lane. Motorists should be especially cautious in passing these large obstacles, as it is difficult to see around them to determine if there is oncoming traffic.

Fortunately, most of the machinery is equipped with turn signals, but it is safer for other drivers to err on the side of caution, and make sure it is not turning before you attempt to pass it.

Please take a little extra time to make this a safe and happy harvest season.

Ratepayer has concerns with Town's decisions

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter due to concerns I have with the decisions that have been made by the Mayor and Councillors of the Town of Elk Point.

Recently I attended a Council meeting, bringing up concerns over drainage issues on my property, located on Railway Avenue. Since I have owned the property, water has been running east from the Truss Plant to the culvert owned by the Town and draining on to my property. This has created a huge problem and has been very frustrating. I didn't create these drainage problems, but I had to deal with them on an ongoing basis. I had expressed these concerns, in writing, to the Town of Elk Point a year ago on June 9, 2014. At that time, the CAO had advised that the Town had no right to deal with this issue as there was no caveat on my property for drainage, the culverts had been put in there 30 years ago and if I wanted anything done, I would have to get a lawyer involved. This made no sense. I did not get a written response from the Town and the issue did not get addressed.

Due to the Town's inactivity on this issue, I did not pay my taxes for 2014.

I re-addressed this same issue at the Council meeting on July 27, 2015, and the Mayor and Council said they did not know anything of the problem, but they would look into it. I also advised that the Truss Plant had large tarps from lifts of lumber in the drainage ditch and I'd like them removed. This was not addressed. The approach has been dug out by the Town of Elk Point to re-direct the water but then left, as they didn't have a culvert. The Truss Plant filled it in. The Town re-dug it and put a temporary pipe in. They will have to re-dig again when they have a culvert. Is this efficient?

I did pay the 2014 taxes but the penalty was $366. I asked the Town to withdraw the penalty and they made a motion that they would NOT. This brings into question the tax increases that we have all experienced this year. In 2014, my taxes increased $1,800 and this year, there was another increase of $1,300. The assessor for the Town of Elk Point advised that this year's tax increase was because of two tanks on my property that had never been assessed prior. These tanks have been there for eight years. My point is, if they were to be taxed eight years ago, then the Town has missed out on taxes all of these years. If they are missing out on tax levies, and all the new construction in Elk Point is forgiven the municipal tax portion for three years, who is paying for the expenses of the Town. Is this why the taxes have increased so much this year for the people that are actually paying taxes? The mayor says 'no,' this has nothing to do with it.

If you dig a little deeper into the financial end, the Town (or rather the residents) paid $49,000 to move dirt in the industrial area, due to the Town allowing contractors to put dirt from the new construction onto a serviced lot. A huge price tag for an error in judgment. However, on the north end, right now at this current time, contractors are again allowed to put the dirt from the new construction onto Town property. Are we to expect another big bill to have that dirt removed?

There are other questions, such as: sale of back (or side) lanes and alleys to neighboring residents, the borrowing of $1.5 million for the water storage facility because the Town started the project before the grant was approved (so it wasn't), concerns over returning full deposits to contractors that by lots and don't start building within one year, having prices of the sale of lots 'blackened out' in the Town of Elk Point minutes when it's public land, and there's so much more.

It's time for accountability, both financial and decision-making, and to stick to the bylaws that were made by the same people that should be enforcing them. We are in a time that being efficient, accountable and responsible is paramount to running any business. Having the Mayor and Council say they 'didn't know' just doesn't cut it.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Golf, Fair and 4-H

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF AUGUST 25 IN...

1985

Pat Bekker won her third Elk Point Fair Grand Aggregate title, along with section wins in Sewing, Knitting and Crochet, and Arts, Crafts and Hobbies, with Rose Doucet and Norma Berg the runners-up for the award. Heinsburg 4-H Garden Club held their Achievement Day, with their displays of vegetables and flowers judged by Regional Home Economist Edith Zawadiuk and District Home Economist Becky Lore.

1990

An impressive 4-under-par final round, added to two excellent preliminary rounds, won Tom Parenteau the championship trophy at the Seventh Annual Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament, where 16 flights of golfers competed for a wide range of prizes. A locum physician was found to fill the gap in Elk Point's medical service resulting from the closure of Dr. Frank Estey's practice, while a newly formed recruitment committee searched for a permanent replacement for the departing physician.

1995

Art Britton won his third Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament championship in four years, shooting two 37s, a 39 and a 36 to finish nine strokes ahead of runner-up Clarence Romanick in the 12-flight, 12th annual tournament. Ten members of the Lachute, Quebec 4-H Club got a taste of western living when they visited 4-Hers in the St. Paul, Elk Point, St. Lina and Goodridge areas on the second portion of a summer exchange program.

2000

Thirteen was a very lucky number for Blair Ask of Lloydminster, who made a $10,000 hole in one on the challenging

195-yard sixth hole in the 17th annual Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament, where the championship went to Robin Moroziuk. Minister of Infrastructure Ed Stelmach took a first-hand look at the badly battered roads in the industrial subdivision before meeting with town council, service and resource industry representatives who made an emphatic plea for road building funding.

2005

Elk Point Oilmen's Golf Tournament pioneer Marshall Kachmar (above right) was presented with a commemorative plaque by EPOA president Don Mudryk at the 22nd Annual Tournament, where Shawn Franklin won the championship flight Rain plagued the Métis Nation of Alberta's Centennial Wagon Trek all the way from the Alberta-Saskatchewan border to their stop in Elk Point, with clouds still threatening as they headed west on their journey.

There was a brand new champion for the Elk Point Oilmen's 27th Annual Golf Tournament, with Bonnyville's Bart Kindopp winning the honour after two days of intense competition that started off in a thick pall of smoke from northern forest fires. The provincial government asked for public input on proposed changes to regulations regarding the use of off-highway vehicles on public lands and in forests in an effort to protect these vulnerable areas from damage.

MONKEY BUSINESS - topped the agenda last Wednesday, when the younger group of Elk Point Municipal Library Summer Reading Program participants had a great time in the depths of a giant monkey bounce castle during their final session of the season.

RECREATION CORNER..

A blast from the past - Friday is show time

JENA COLBOURNE
Recreation Director

I have been seeing a lot of Back to School ads out already. Crazy how every year summer seems to get shorter and shorter. My family has already begun looking at activities for the fall and getting kids signed up for sports and groups.

On Tuesday, September 8th, the County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS, along with the Town of Elk Point's Recreation Department, is hosting a Community Information Night. Most, if not all, of Elk Point's clubs and organizations will be on hand to answer questions, give information, and to sign you and/or your kids up.

If you represent a club or organization in Elk Point and have not yet received an email from the FCSS you can contact me at recreation@elkpoint.ca and I'll make sure you get the registration forms. The FCSS would like the forms in as soon as possible so they can make sure there's enough space and tables available.

Community Information Night will be held at The Allied Arts Centre on September 8th, from 7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m..

Now let's get back to summer, specifically cool summer nights. What does that remind you of? Drive-in Movies! My generation may have been the last to enjoy an old-school drive-in movie, where you pile as many kids as possible into the hatch of the station wagon, cover them with blankets and sneak a few in. The sound system which would attach to the window of the driver's side, the smell of grass mixed with popcorn. It was glorious!

You can re-live that feeling and maybe give the kids a blast from the past. The FCSS is hosting a Drive in Movie on August 28th. Instead of vehicles, they ask everyone to bring a comfortable lawn chair or a blanket to enjoy the movie.

The Co-op has donated all the equipment, the trailer, screen, and truck to watch the film AND on top of all that they also donated popcorn for everyone in the audience. Since there's popcorn there has to be pop - or a drink of some kind- The Town of Elk Point's Rec Department will be donating a drink for every audience member.

The movie selection is yet to be determined, but I am told it will be family friendly.

On to our Quilters and Crafters- there's a bus trip organized for September 12th to attend The Creative Stitches and Crafting Alive in Sherwood Park. The trip will cost between $25 and $30 depending on capacity. This is one of the biggest quilt, craft, scrapbooking, sewing, knitting, beading, etc. expo in Western Canada. If you would like more information on the trip or to book your spot contact me at recreation@elkpoint.ca.

Coming up... Grandparents Day on September 13th, more details in the next edition!

ACCESSIBLE TO ALL - Town of Elk Point Public Works employees put the finishing touches on a wide and gently sloped sidewalk that will provide easier access to the Elk Point Municipal Library for everyone from parents pushing strollers to those who use walkers or wheelchairs to access the library, where the annual used book sale starts Thursday.

Water issues high on County council's agenda

JANICE HUSER
Review Contributor

After discussions with the provincial government, County of St. Paul administration has been waiting to hear back about the scope change to the Ashmont/Lottie Lake water project that has been somewhat slowed since the election.

"It did sound pretty positive," said CAO Sheila Kitz, when speaking about the meeting. But, she added that she was under the impression the county would have heard back from the province by now, which they had not.

Design work is continuing, and it has been decided that the water-lines, when they reach the hamlet of Ashmont, will not follow the Iron Horse Trail, due to contaminated soil in the area.

Administration is also already working toward the second phase of the water project, which is to bring water to Mallaig. In order to get in the next cycle of funding from the Water for Life grant, council should consider submitting a letter to Alberta Transportation, reads council's August agenda package.

Water Diversion

Canadian Natural Resources Limited (CNRL) is working with the province to remain in compliance with several regulations regarding water diversion from the North Saskatchewan River.

As it stands, CNRL permits agricultural producers and the County of St. Paul to access water from CNRL's water diversion point along the river, but this will no longer be permitted, reads the county's August agenda package.

To bring CNRL into compliance, and to ensure that water will be made accessible to agricultural producers requiring water and for municipal purposes, including fire suppression and dust control, the province recommended that the county apply for a temporary diversion license.

Since these diversion points are located within the County of Vermilion River and in close proximity to the County of Two Hills, the two municipalities have been notified of the County of St. Paul's intentions, and neither have concerns with the temporary diversion license proceeding.

Council passed a motion to move forward with the temporary diversion license and an agreement with CNRL.

Berlinguette Road

A permit to cross a wetland to upgrade a road west of St. Paul, Berlinguette Road, will stand, as the appellants who spoke out against the permit are considered not to be directly affected by the work being done.

The road project, which is west of town and north of Highway 29 at Range Road 103, began last year.

"The permit stands and work will continue when a road construction crew is available in that area," said Kitz, in her report.

FCSS

The County of St. Paul will be entering into a lease agreement for space at the Elk Point Eco-Centre, which is where the now-joint FCSS department will work from.

Coun. Dwight Dach described the building as a "prime location" for FCSS.

So far, the merger of the two FCSS departments is going well, according to the CAO report.

Berg sets new record

SUBMITTED COPY

Congratulations to Dylan Berg on breaking the Provincial Deadlift Record of 583 lbs. On Aug. 22, Dylan deadlifted 590 lbs at a body-weight of 181 lbs to become the new record holder of Alberta in the 182.6 lb junior category.

Dylan broke the record on his second deadlift attempt; on his third attempt he tried to break his own record by trying 606 lbs, he was very close but just couldn't do it.

Dylan also picked up a gold medal again and won his division with ease.

He will be competing again on Dec. 19 in Moose Jaw Saskatchewan, where he will try to win gold overall and try to break the national deadlift record of 635 lbs, which is currently held by a competitor in Ontario.

Dylan Berg succeeds in deadlifting 590 lbs. to set a new record for Alberta.
